This year's theme is "Moving people and goods more sustainably". During 3 days, policymakers, local authorities, academics, NGOs, urban transport practitioners, and urban planners will discuss the way forward for a sustainable, innovative, and equitable future for Europe's urban mobility.

At the occasion, Tommaso Spanevello, Head of European Affairs HAROPA PORT, participates to a round table dedicated to "Zero-emission urban logistics" 4:00 PM -5:30 PM | 09/21/2022. He explains how the first french port :

> reach zero-emission urban logistics,

> collaborates with logistics stakeholders to transition quickly to a more efficient and sustainable urban logistics.

And which innovative concepts and services are already deployed in our port to support the transition.
